Art Unit: 2616

1. Claims 8, 14 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The recitation of transmission of the second channel is performed in parallel with transmission of the first channel is not described in the specification as originally filed (the application serial # 08/375,679).

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 2,9 and 15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,3, 5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,628,635.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because deleting power value and the second signal succeeds the first signal from the claim would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to make the claim broad. The following is the comparison between the claims in the instant application and the patented claims. The step of transmitting ---a first channel is the same as transmitting ---said mobile terminal; the step of receiving at a mobile terminal --first signal; measuring ---the first signal and generating ---a response signal is the same as measuring by a mobile ---first signal; transmitting by said mobile ---base station is the same as transmitting ---first signal; the step of receiving --- a second channel.

Regarding claims 3,10,16, using the different codes for different channel would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to reduce the interference.

Regarding claims 4,17, the limitation is similar to the measuring the power value of the received signal recited in claims 1,3 and 5 of the patented claims.

Regarding claims 5,11,18, transmitting signal with a constant transmission power would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order to reduce the interference between the channels.

Regarding claims 6,12,19, the limitation is the same as the limitations recited in claims 2,4,6.

Regarding claims 7, 13, 20, using the first signal as a pilot signal would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order to measure the signal strength.
